In The Holiday Spirit

by Matt Hennessee, City Manager

This is the most festive season of the year! The Mayor, City Council, and the City Administration join me in wishing you and your family many joys, health, and happiness during this holiday season. We further hope that you will take part in many celebrations, such as the Festival of Lights, and give to many charities such as the St. John's Church and EMU's Toys for Tots type programs.

Most of all, let us give to each other the intangible, yet priceless, gift of genuine human companionship and concern.

To date you have received five issues of THE PACESETTER, the City's vehicle to share information with you on a variety of issues such as snow removal, brush pick-up, building inspection, and special projects. The Editorial Staff would greatly appreciate hearing your comments which I am sure will improve the quality of this communication.

As we will only publish THE PACESETTER twice a year (August and December), it gives the Staff plenty of time to review your comments and evaluate the next issue.

Please let us know of your comments or concerns in one of the following ways: (A) contact your City Council representative; (B) write or call the City Manager's Office; (C) complete and return "Your Opinion Please" on page 4 of this issue; or (D) write a Letter to the Editor of THE PACESETTER or THE YPSILANTI PRESS. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Let me take this opportunity to thank the Editorial Staff for their relentless dedication to the City and to you, the people of our community, for supporting our efforts and by calling or writing from time to time enabling us to better serve you.

Happy Holidays!

Ypsilanti: The City of Lights

by Val Franklin
Visitors and Convention Bureau

Editorial Note: The City of Ypsilanti wishes to pay special tribute to Al Shelton, Detroit Edison, the employees of the Department of Public Works, Mike Kabott, and those numerous volunteers who have contributed hundreds of hours to make this festival possible.

Ypsilanti's first annual Festival of Lights began as a dream; an idea that was talked about in terms of "what if" and "imagine." It was discussed briefly several years ago and then put aside. But it surfaced again this fall and, impossible as it sounded, with only a few weeks to plan, the pieces fell into place. When the switches were pulled at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, November 23, Riverside Park was transformed into a dazzling fantasy land of light.

Some of the ingredients necessary to make this dream a reality included over 20,000 light bulbs on 200 feet cord, 10,000 feet of wire, 16 lighted displays and hundreds and hundreds of volunteer hours. A project of this magnitude would not be possible without widespread community involvement and support of Ypsilanti residents.

Riverside Park is an ideal location to draw together many parts of the community, as it is a natural bridge between downtown and Depot Town, and the Festival of Lights provides another opportunity to showcase Ypsilanti's riverfront resource. Walking through this beautiful area it is easy to imagine horse-drawn sleighs and caroling against the backdrop of snow and glittering jewels of light.

The Visitors and Convention Bureau is confident that the Festival of Lights will continue to grow bigger and brighter, with new displays and activities added each year. The festive spirit is contagious, and as individuals and whole neighborhoods are likely to participate with their own lighting displays, our city will become a "City of Lights."

"THREE MAJOR CELEBRATIONS"

by The Editorial Staff

Many joys are celebrated during this time of year. Thanksgiving was recently celebrated as a formal opportunity to reflect on the many blessings received throughout the year. It is symbolic of the feast enjoyed by the Pilgrims and Indians shortly after the Pilgrims landed on the shores of this country.

There are also at least three major holidays celebrated during the month of December which have religious or cultural significance.

The event dedicated and celebrated in Jewish history as "Hanukkah" the Feast of Lights, is symbolic of the nation's struggle to maintain its spiritual identity against a superior force.

During the Hellenistic period in Jewish history, Antiochus IV Epiphanes (Greek ruler) slaughtered many Jews; those who were spared were forbidden to practice their faith. A revolt led initially by Mattathias, a priest, and later his son, Judah Maccabee, bought liberation to Jerusalem and dedication to the Temple for divine service.

Hanukkah is celebrated for eight nights, with candles lit each night. This year the celebration begins on December 27th. In many homes gifts are exchanged each night or only on one night, and many families light their candles in honor of the Soviet Jews who cannot practice their faith, to the plight of blacks in South Africa, or for other modern acts for religious or cultural suppression.

"Kwanzaa is a comparatively new celebration. This African-American custom was originated by Dr. Karenga, a California scholar and philosopher, in 1966. Dr. Karenga had completed an exhaustive study of traditional African societies and determined that each of them were built upon and guided by seven basic principles, which he called "Nguzo Saba," (pronounced Neguzu Saba).

These seven principles are: unity, self-determination, collective work and responsibility, cooperative economics, purpose, creativity, and faith. Kwanzaa is based on African harvest festivals and these principles are reaffirmed during a week-long celebration from December 26-January 1. This celebration of a lit candle symbolizes each principle.

After the death of Jesus, religious followers who believed Jesus to be the Messiah wanted to celebrate his birth and commemorate this event as a religious holiday. The Romans traditionally celebrated "Natalis Invicti" (a pagan festival) on what has been determined to be the last week of December (according to the modern calendar). By 386 AD church leaders established the celebration of "Christ Mass" (Christ's Coming) so that Christians could join the festival activities without bending to paganism. Therefore, December 25th has become the traditional date to celebrate the Birth of Jesus.

While "Christmas" is the celebration of Christ's birth, biblical scholars have depicted his birth to probably have been late March to mid April. This celebration is one of lights, songs, religious and spiritual renewal, thanksgiving, and physical and spiritual gift-giving. The gift-giving is symbolic of the gifts brought to Joseph and Mary on the night of Jesus's birth by the wisemen, the gifts of frankincense and myrrh. It was Isaiah who said "... unto us a child is born . . . a son is given . . . his name shall be called Prince of Peace . . ."

City Prepares for Cooperative Effort To Battle Winter Snow And Ice

by Mike Ager

As winter approaches the staff of the City's Department of Public Works turn their attention toward keeping Ypsilanti's 58 miles of streets clear of snow and ice.

First priority for removal goes to Ypsilanti's 25 miles of state trunk lines and major streets which are cleared during both day and night hours immediately after snowfall occurs. Thirty-three miles of neighborhood streets which are divided into five districts are the next priority. These streets are normally addressed during daylight hours to provide equipment operators with maximum visibility for parked cars and pedestrians. While clearing the neighborhood streets, however, it is important to note that snowplows may return to the state trunk lines and major streets at any time to keep these roadways open for maximum safety.

If the snowfall becomes excessively dangerous the City Manager may declare a weather emergency. Announcements over the local radio stations to this effect would cause a prohibition of parking on primary snow routes. Signs mark these streets throughout the City and vehicles that are parked on these streets would be towed so snow can be effectively removed. Residents should cooperate with this restriction during emergency weather conditions.

Property owners are reminded that the current City snow removal ordinance requires them to keep their own City sidewalks clear of snow and ice. Walks must be cleared at least 48 hours from each snowfall. The City is looking forward to another winter involving a cooperative effort between City crews and property owners in keeping travel routes clear and safe.
